

Conjugating -er Verbs

The -ar verbs set the pattern for all the regular verbs, including the -er and -ir verbs. To conjugate -er verbs, you chop the -er off the end of the verb and add the appropriate verb endings so that the verb agrees with its subject pronoun. If you can etch the following conjugation chart on your gray matter, you'll have everything you need to conjugate any -er verb you may encounter.

Regular present tense -er verb endings:

yo -o	nosotros/as -emos
tú -es	vosotros/as -éis
él, ella -e Ud.	ellos/as -en Uds.

So the present-tense conjugations for a regular -er verb such as aprender (to understand) are . . .

aprender = to understand

aprendo	aprendemos
aprendes	aprendéis
aprende	aprenden

Nosotros aprendemos. = We understand.
